Corporal J. Nelson to his sister. The letter is dated May 31st 1864.

Abner R. Small

Ferdinand Sophus Winslow letters, September 1862-April 1865 was allowed to stay indefinitely. There, also, relations between English and Union officers were tense, ending in Confederacy (18 May 1862) is noted as is Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton's culpability in not the Mediterranean to protect Union shipping. The tour also served a diplomatic function as Thatcher and

Correspondence from Eugene Bergin Hinkley to his sisters in which he details his activities while traveling

Enoch Stephens's diary from his time in the 5th NY Veteran Volunteers from January 1st, 1865 to December

The diary has daily entries from 1861-1865 about the events, activities, and battles fought by Company B, 28th N.

news that all the prisoners were being sent home, and the trip from Boston, Mass., to Norfolk, Va. News of the capacity of LaGrange Hospital and the hiring of slaves for hospitals. Also included is a letter from W.M.

New York City, where he arrived a week before that ship was commissioned on 16 November 1861. Pray Battle Creek, for 3 years, age 39. Commissioned Major April 25, 1861. Mustered May 25, 1861.

Battle Creek. Entered service in company C, Second Infantry, at organization, as Captain, May 10, 1861, at men killed and where.

Ezekiel John Ellis - 1865 April-October (vol. 2)

This is the diary of David E. Curtis who served with the 104th New York Infantry during the Civil War. He

This collection consists of one diary (77 pages) kept by Adam H. Pickel during the American Civil War, 13

C.) and Ft. Strong (N.C.). Entries discuss Rinker's health; the weather; camp life - drills, guard duty, foraging government to gain freedom, Lewis took the Oath himself on March 14, 1862 and was released.

The Confederate Soldier who wrote the diary/journal was actually an artilleryman who was a member of the Civil War under the Army of Tennessee in Georgia. Included are documents relating to the physical 21-23, Campbell writes, "The Battle was going on [and] we are ordered to the front of Petersburg, Virginia, in April 1865. Entries refer to the assassination of Pres. Abraham Lincoln and the capture

Battle of Nashville; pursuit of

As a result, he was arrested in November 1861 and imprisoned in different places including Forts Donelson, St. Louis, and the Civil War, his experience in battle, imprisonment at Fort Donelson, and swearing an oath to gain his freedom.

A. J. Thompson

expeditions; pursuit of General Sterling Price through Arkansas and Missouri; Battle of Nashville; pursuit of expeditions; pursuit of General Sterling Price through Arkansas and Missouri; Battle of Nashville; pursuit of led to the formation of the African-American 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, which with the administration due to his frank criticism of Lincoln, Seward, and other military officials

His keen political mind and devotion to the abolitionist movement, as stated in his Slavery in History (1860), led the correspondence was addressed to a particular newspaper or to family and friends from men on the fields

Quiner Scrapbooks -  Correspondence of the Wisconsin Volunteers, 1861-1865, Volume 7

Quiner Scrapbooks -  Correspondence of the Wisconsin Volunteers, 1861-1865, Volume 6

700+ documents to process, content will be added weekly, so stop back and see us.
The B. H. Johnson Journal is a handwritten account of one year from September 1863 to September 1864 of President Lincoln.

In the diary, Johnson describes his service as a soldier in the Union army, including battles and skirmishes. He also notes his interactions with other soldiers and the conditions of military life.

The diary provides a unique perspective on the day-to-day experiences of a soldier during the Civil War. It offers insights into the challenges and hardships faced by Union soldiers, as well as their camaraderie and spirit of patriotism.

The Johnson Journal is an invaluable resource for historians and scholars interested in the Civil War era. Its detailed accounting of military service and personal reflections make it a valuable addition to the collection of Civil War diaries and memoirs.
Civil War Diaries

managed to convey the Confederacy career, accompanying him to postings in Montgomery, Richmond, Charleston, and Columbia, Chesnut became Mary Boykin Chesnut schedule, fluctuating gold prices, local and national politics and elections, war news, and local community in battle, thus saving Balle's life; a prominent tear pierces the volume. The volume also includes accounts, Theodore Reichhardt of the James.

Diary of Cloe Tyler Whittle Greene, July 30, 1862 - September 27, 1863.  The diary begins at the outbreak of army hospitals at Lynchburg, Va., and Charlotte, N.C., and on furlough, November 1864-March 1865; and cargo. Also contained in the collection are research notes, speeches, and correspondence of William Porter James Dickson Diary.

James Aker diary, 1864.  This collection consists of a diary that covers Civil War events like marching through February 1862. The diary describes the voyage from New York to Halifax, Nova Scotia and the through Lincoln's assassination. It includes his account of the Battle of Gettysburg, and his impressions of President Lincoln, who was shot in Washington, D.C.

Joshua Breyfogle was captured October 25, 1864, near Fort Scott, Kans., and imprisoned at Gratiot Street Prison and Alton arsenal. The collection consists of the diary of a blockade runner during the Civil War from December 1861 and depredations suffered by the civilians, as well as entries pertaining to Jayhawkers and skirmishes, and

George L. Bright

Isaiah Goddard Hacker

Isaiah Smith Diary July 1860 - February 1867 (transcript)

Jackson S. Stuchal

John W. Tuttle Diary Transcript

Joshua Breyfogle describes his Civil war experiences; a typed genealogy of the Breyfogle family; and six family photographs. An entry from September 22, 1861 reads: "The war began..." and the first page is smudged from rubbing and

Isaac B. Brown

James M. Malbone Diary Transcript

Corinth, Mississippi. He includes his account of the Battle of Shiloh (April 6 and 7, 1862) and drawings of the Maryland with battles at Rich Mountain and Cheat Mountain, West Virginia, and White House Landing Virginia with battles at Rich Mountain and Cheat Mountain, West Virginia, and White House Landing

Massachusetts following Charles Darwin Elliot's discharge; daily life and household activities; and relationships

Charles F. Weller, Pocket sized diary, beginning in 1862 and ending in 1864

Inf. Regt., CSA. Parkes' diary includes information about the early movements of the regt. Leading up to the

Diary of Lt. Rufus B. Parkes, Co. E, 9th KY. Inf. Regt., CSA (also known as 5th KY and 9th KY Mtd. Inf.). The

1862. Handwritten copy of the diary of Pvt. Rodyson Roberson Etter, Co.. H, 16th Tenn. Inf. Regt., CSA. This

4, 1862. Soldier was from Viola, Warren Co., Tenn. Etter was wounded at Perryville, Ky. in October

Robert P. Goodman describes the battle at Harpers Ferry that took place in September 1862. Confederate General 'Stonewall' including military drills, the weather, dress parades, inspections, etc. Toward the end of the diary, McAfee

Fort Washington. He describes building winter quarters, his pay and equipment, preparing for drill and sees where George Washington is buried. He also visits wounded soldiers in a hospital within view of

Isaiah Smith

John A. Roberts

John W. Tuttle

Isaiah Smith

Jackson S. Stuchal

Robert P. Goodman

Isaac B. Brown

James M. Malbone
Civil War Diaries

William Legg Henderson journal #07, May 15 - June 7, 1865
William Legg Henderson journal #04, January 1 - July 20 1864
William Legg Henderson journal #03, January 1 - December 31, 1863

Division headquarters' position until his discharge. Winchester Byron Rudy died February 27, 1920 in

In January 1864, he was reassigned to the 13th Kentucky, 23rd Army Corps for which he served in a

Jo Thompson Artillery of Wright

Although he opposed secession, Hanleiter served in several Georgia units, most prominently in the 1852 began publishing the Atlanta Intelligencer. Hanleiter was active in Atlanta civic affairs, organizing the

Henry Brockway served as a soldier during the Civil War in Company K, 34th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers.

Henry Beck Civil War diaries, 1864-1865. Beck's diary compiled during his service in the Army of Northern

Petersburg. Captured at Drewry's Bluff, Burnell landed in Andersonville via Libby Prison and Danville,

Henry Hamilton Bennett (1843-1908) of Wisconsin Dells became one of the nation's best

Edward W. Allen Papers 1865-1866 and undated

Edward W. Allen Papers June 1862-April 1864

the Cavalry forces of the XV Corps. In December of 1964, he was brevetted brigadier-general for gallantry in

Federal Government throughout the Civil War. Notably, Mason served as a delegate to the Second

Iowa and fought with the 8th Iowa Infantry and later the 25th Iowa Infantry. He was severely wounded in the

in Company E of the 15th Regiment of the Iowa Volunteer Infantry. He served as a sergeant in that company

Incidents of the war such as the occupation of Montgomery, and the death of Abraham Lincoln. Potter also notes at the end of each entry

Buried with the Union, and all its ideals, When the war ended, the remnants of the army dispersed. In 1865,

Edward Hannibal Burnell (1843 - 1921) enlisted in Captain McArthur's company for three years, but when the company took a leave of

The diary is a record of daily life, thoughts, and experiences of a soldier in the Civil War. It includes observations on slavery and the effects of war.

Diary of Buford Brown, soldier. August 7, 1862 to May 31, 1865. Contains descriptions of daily weather

One Year In The Civil War, A Diary of the Events from April 1st, 1864, to April 1st, 1865 By William N. Price,

This is an excerpt from the diary of C.T. Kimmel, an assistant surgeon in the 2nd Missouri State Militia Cavalry.

Diary, September 7, 1861-June 26, 1862, of Captain William Moore, Company G, 10th Wisconsin

William Sylvester Dillon Civil War Diary. Typed transcription, 133 p.

Division headquarters' position until his discharge. Winchester Byron Rudy died February 27, 1920 in

In January 1864, he was reassigned to the 13th Kentucky, 23rd Army Corps for which he served in a

Jo Thompson Artillery of Wright

Although he opposed secession, Hanleiter served in several Georgia units, most prominently in the 1852 began publishing the Atlanta Intelligencer. Hanleiter was active in Atlanta civic affairs, organizing the

Henry Brockway served as a soldier during the Civil War in Company K, 34th Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers.

Henry Beck Civil War diaries, 1864-1865. Beck's diary compiled during his service in the Army of Northern

Petersburg. Captured at Drewry's Bluff, Burnell landed in Andersonville via Libby Prison and Danville,

Henry Hamilton Bennett (1843-1908) of Wisconsin Dells became one of the nation's best

Edward W. Allen Papers 1865-1866 and undated

Edward W. Allen Papers June 1862-April 1864

the Cavalry forces of the XV Corps. In December of 1964, he was brevetted brigadier-general for gallantry in

Federal Government throughout the Civil War. Notably, Mason served as a delegate to the Second

Iowa and fought with the 8th Iowa Infantry and later the 25th Iowa Infantry. He was severely wounded in the

in Company E of the 15th Regiment of the Iowa Volunteer Infantry. He served as a sergeant in that company

Incidents of the war such as the occupation of Montgomery, and the death of Abraham Lincoln. Potter also notes at the end of each entry

Edward Hannibal Burnell (1843 - 1921) enlisted in Captain McArthur's company for three years, but when the company took a leave of

The diary is a record of daily life, thoughts, and experiences of a soldier in the Civil War. It includes observations on slavery and the effects of war.

Diary of Buford Brown, soldier. August 7, 1862 to May 31, 1865. Contains descriptions of daily weather

One Year In The Civil War, A Diary of the Events from April 1st, 1864, to April 1st, 1865 By William N. Price,

This is an excerpt from the diary of C.T. Kimmel, an assistant surgeon in the 2nd Missouri State Militia Cavalry.

Diary, September 7, 1861-June 26, 1862, of Captain William Moore, Company G, 10th Wisconsin

William Sylvester Dillon Civil War Diary. Typed transcription, 133 p.

Henry Warren Howe, a Union officer, discusses his efforts to train cavalry troops and the pursuit of Confederates around Bloomfield, Missouri. A letter dated August 15th, 1863, contains personal reflections and military updates.

The collection features correspondence from Henry's wife, written during his Civil War service. The letters are insightful, with a mix of personal updates and practical advice. A particularly touching note is from his brother-in-law, C. Todd, who served as a doctor at a military hospital.

African-American soldiers of the 54th Massachusetts Regiment were serving as nurses during the war. In one instance, Thompson expresses hope for parole, though parole requests were common during the Civil War and not always granted.

Hartwell Percy Spain Diary Transcription
He worries about Richard's condition and the impact of his capture on their parents who now have two sons to support. Imprisonment, however, is difficult to bear—he suffers from depression and a variety of physical ailments, including stomach distress, smallpox, diarrhea, and scarlet fever.

The end of the journal contains information such as a list of hospital patients and their treatments. Each soldier's health and treatment are documented, and the journal includes a post-prison account of the author's experiences in camps, on the march, and in prisons in the vicinity of St. Louis, Missouri.

Griffin Frost
Selections from the letters and diaries of Brevet-Brigadier General Willoughby Babcock of the Seventy-fifth Infantry, 1861-1865. Babcock attended the University of Wisconsin from 1863-1864. He notes their rank, age, regiment, company, injury, and battle where the injury occurred. Babcock's writings provide a unique perspective on the war's influence on education and the military.

George Wagner
The Story of the Great March, from the diary of a staff officer (1865). Wagner served with the 2nd Regiment of the Louisiana Native Guard. This portion of the diary was edited by C. P. Weaver and published in 1912. Wagner's diary offers a personal account of the war, detailing his experiences on the march and in the field.

George S. Smith diary, 1862-1866
This is the diary of George W. Bisbee who served with the 9th Vermont Infantry during the Civil War. It describes scenes and incidents during a trip for exchange of prisoners from St. Louis, Missouri, via Philadelphia, New York, and Washington, D.C.

George M. Shearer diary, 1863
Palmer recalls that during a storm in camp, 100 men from Col. Williams' 12th Tennessee Infantry deserted, but they were later captured. The author also notes that he found a powder horn in camp.

George Hall Civil War letters, 1861-1864.

Civil War Diary of Confederate soldier George D. Wise. He served as captain in the Confederate States Infantry, and the diary covers events from June 5, 1861, to April 25, 1863. The diary also includes information about the author's personal life and experiences during the war.

George Augustus Sala was a journalist, travel writer, and essayist, and had worked as a painter and writer before the Civil War. His diary, written in 1863, offers personal reflections on the war and his role as a writer.

George Anderson Mercer (1835-1907) was a Confederate officer and lawyer of Savannah, Ga. Mercer kept a diary of his experiences during the Civil War, from mid-June 1860 to early December 1865. The diary covers events such as the surrender of Fort Pulaski, the capture of Savannah, and the author's thoughts on the war's progress.

George A. Cook, 27th NY Volunteer Infantry Regiment diary
The diary of George A. Cook covers the period from Jan. 1, 1862 to Oct. 25, 1862. It offers a first-person account of the war, detailing the author's daily activities, battles, and personal reflections.

A rebel came home; the diary of Floride Clemson tells of her wartime adventures in Yankeeland, 1863-64, her family affairs, reading and study, and reactions to current events and ideas.

George Anderson Mercer diary Transcription Volume 2, 15 June 1860-17 December 1865
George Anderson Mercer diary Volume 5, June 1860-June 1885
In Volume 2, Mercer chronicles events from June 15, 1860, to December 17, 1865, covering the war's early years. Volume 5 continues the diary's coverage into 1885.

Inside the Confederate Government; the diary of Robert Garlick Hill Kean, head of the Bureau of War. Edited and published in 1916, this diary offers a unique perspective on the war's impact on the Confederacy's government.

G. L. MacMurphy Diary 1864/1865
A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.

A journal maintained by Frances A. 'Fannie' Murdoch, a young woman living on a Mississippi plantation during the Civil War. Murdoch very briefly describes her family's financial struggles and the Civil War's effects on the region.
Civil War Diaries

Personal Recollections And Civil War Diary, 1864

Leaves from a Trooper's Diary, 1869. Experiences with the 15th Regiment, Pennsylvania Cavalry (the Diary of an Enlisted Man, 1910.

Lawrence Van Alstyne

Regiment contains the chapter describing Hall, Cary and Cocklin's escape from the Shreveport, Louisiana prison.

in the area of Pascagoula Bay and Franklin Creek (Mississippi). The news clipping contains an image and

L. Stone Hall was a member of the Iowa Infantry, Nineteenth Regiment, Company C, during the U.S. Civil War.

L. G. Hall

Kate S. Carney Diary, 1859-1876

Judith Mcguire

Josiah M. Favill

War Diary (1862-5) of Brevet Brigadier General Joseph Stockton, 72d Regiment Illinois Infantry Volunteers.

Ebb tide : as seen through the diary of Josephine Clay Habersham, 1863.

and mention the movements of Gen. Price and Col. Jennison, and the assassination of President Lincoln.

papers, including his own account of the raid on Lake Erie

Contains brief accounts of military operations of the 31st Missouri Infantry in Georgia during the Atlanta money spent, and work done for hire. Also included in the collection is his discharge paper.

Andersonville Diary, escape and list of the dead with name, Co., regiment, date of death, 1881.

months, and 17 days.

Civil Way Private Diary of John L Ryno.  John L Ryno of Interlaken NY was a member of of the 3rd Brigade

Diary of Sgt. John Jennings, 2nd Tenn. Mtd. Inf., USA. Jennings was from Decatur County, Tenn. The diary

The private journal and diary of John H. Surratt, the conspirator.

War. The collection consists of John H. Brown's diary, which references the military campaign in eastern values; religious activities (Bills attended a variety of denominational services); and descriptions of Bills's travels.

Diary kept by Bills with almost daily entries between 1841 and 1871. Typical entries are 10-25 words in length

John Houston Bills Papers, 1843-1871

"described Shorter as

John Freeman Shorter grew up in Washington, D.C. as a free man. By the spring of 1863, he was living in

John Freeman Shorter Diary Transcription

John D. Thomas Diary (1862). Written 10 July 1862 as a reminiscence, Thomas describes his experience in his daily experiences, including his participation in Sherman's March beginning in Chattanooga.

weather, some men of the 47th New York Infantry murdering a civilian (June 9), a a soldier in the 47th New discharged from the service on August 25, 1864.

was promoted to corporal on August 3, 1862, and to sergeant on March 15, 1863. Wounded, he was

Infantry and join the remainder of the regiment already deployed on the Virginia Pensinsula. Hancock

John H. Hancock

Recollections of a Naval Officer 1841-1865, (1883).  An engaging memoir of a naval officer who went south to Reminiscences -Pinckney Rayburn Young 25th North Carolina Infantry, Company I.

John Bigelow 1866 Jan 2-Oct 10

John Beauchamp Jones

John A. Cobb Papers.

John A. Caho papers, 1861-1875.  This collection contains a diary kept by John A. Caho from October 16, 1863

the defense of Atlanta and the Battles of Franklin & Nashville.

Diary and Notebook of Jesse Dawley.

The 1864 diary of Lt.-Col. Jefferson K. Scott, 59th Indiana Volunteer Infantry / transcribed from the original and

Jefferson K. Scott

James T. Stuart Civil War Diary - Original and Transcript

Civil War diary written by Col. James Riley Weaver who later became professor of political science at

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, October 1864

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, October 1863

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, November 1864

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, November 1863

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, June 1863

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, July 1863

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, January 1864

James Riley Weaver Civil War diary, April 1865

the Battle of Boonville, the Second Battle of Lexington, the Battle of the Big Blue, the Second Battle

s headquarters. He mentions to Grant on the 9th of April 1865".

Jacob Harrison Allspaugh diary, September 1861-September 1862

Jacob Harrison Allspaugh diary, July-Nov. 1864

1862-1865 / by J. W. Gaskill.  This history is compiled from a diary written while serving ... with the 104th of Negroes & horses, various battles, river transports, General Pillow, etc.).

J. W. Gaskill

enemy engagements/battles, etc. The diary was purchased from Mary Neeley, whose great-grandmother for Hardeman's Avengers (Conf. cavalry and infantry units) organizations & elections, encampments,

Irene Richards Diary, Volume 1

The Washington diary of Horatio Nelson Taft vol. 3

Currier, Company I, 7th Wisconsin Infantry Regiment, to his brother Edwin, describing his army experiences much descriptive detail, being composed for the most part of short, mundane notes. Entries from 1861-1862

The Civil War Diary of Herman Salomon: The author (1834-1881) was a German cabinet-maker who came
Civil War Diaries

of Company H / by William I. Fletcher.

A soldier for one hundred days: being letters from the Sixth Regt. M.V.M. during its last term of service, July 16 –

The collection contains a diary of Stewart's military experiences. Volume 1 contains accounts for November special agent to CSA Ordnance Dept. from 1861-1865. The collection contains several orders signed by William H. Arehart diaries, 1863-1865. Describes movements of troops near Appomattox, April, 1865, and his

William H. Arehart 1864

William H. Arehart 1863

William R. Townsend Civil War Diary, Back Matter

William R. Townsend Civil War Diary, 1863  (November)

Ky. Brief descriptions of action include capture and burning of Columbia, S.C., and Battle of Bentonville. Also William Frederick Thayer, April 8, 1864 - June 27, 1865

and subsequent retreat. Includes his obituary.

William H. S. Burgwyn Diary, January 21, 1864 - September 28, 1864

William H. S. Burgwyn Diary, August 1, 1862 - March 2, 1863

Ninth Army Corps : August 19, 1862-July 4, 1865.

in great detail, his company's movements in Northern Virginia and recalls the numerous battles he fought in.

his conversations with General Robert E. Lee, 1867-1870 (typed transcriptions).

life and of the Civil War, during which he served as a colonel and chief ordnance officer for generals of Allan and of members of his family. Allan's volumes include reminiscences, written in the 1880s, of his early

William Allan Papers, 1802-1937 - Volume 7 Diary, William Allan, March 1886-May 1888

William Allan Papers, 1802-1937 - Volume 2 Notebook, 1865 and undated after being captured. Many pages of the diary are filled with miscellaneous notes.

Willard Felton (1844?-1862) was 18 years old when he enlisted as a private in Co. F of the 18th Wisconsin

W.P. Simmons

W.H. Duff

the Atlanta Campaign, the end of the war, and Lincoln's assassination.

Villeroy A. Tambling

Diary of Van S. Bennett: Oct. 3 - 12, 1864

Diary of Van S. Bennett: 1863

Turner S. Bailey diary, 1861

A Musician

Gould D. Molineaux Civil War Diary, volume 3.    7 May 1864-4 August 1865

Correspondence between Dr. Asa Bean and his family while he served as a surgeon in the Union Army he suffered, and resulting health problems. The article also contains information on Young's post-war

Richards, Caroline Cowles. Village life in America, 1852-1872, including the period of the American Civil War in the Gettysburg campaign, during which he was killed; and an essay or address about Jews and early although farmers thwarted their efforts. Although Thomas lost property and many farm hands, the the spread of smallpox and efforts to provide vaccinations. Maguire often makes references to the anxiety

The Civil War Diary of a Southern Belle [transcribed]

of letters relating to Mallory's application for parole and some general business and financial information;

Stephen R. Mallory Diary and Reminiscences, 1861-1872. Typescript diary (volumes 1 and 2).

Solomon B. Childress

to England.

fight with Mr. Blankman at his boarding house; his journey on the North Star with the Banks expedition; the New Orleans, Louisiana, and Baton Rouge, Louisiana; boarding house living; a visit to the Rawlings family; a a bridal reception at the Edwards family's residence in honor of the marriage of Sally Edwards and Thomas Nast;

State Militia on Staten Island, the death of Charles Welden, and his reporting work.

Includes Gunn's descriptions of his experiences as a war correspondent for the New York Tribune in Virginia

Includes Gunn's descriptions of the scene in New York at the commencement of the Civil War, his visits to a visit to the Heylyn and Rogers families in Rochester; and his trip to Paris, Ontario, to visit George Bolton and a visit to the Edwards family's residence in honor of the marriage of Sally Edwards and Thomas Nast;

Civil War Diaries

Dr. Jonathan Letterman was the medical director for the Army of the Potomac during the Civil War. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Primarily letters from Berry to his family while serving in the Confederate Army. There are also family letters, received in action. The brothers belonged to Co. I and Co. F, 21st N.C. Regiment, and Co. D., 53rd Infantry; the military deaths of the brothers.

Entries describing the battle of the Wilderness, Jubal Early's Valley campaign, and the siege of Petersburg. The section of this journal includes blank leaves, followed by several pages of notes and lists. The diary was written during the Civil War from December 1861 through February 1862. The diary describes the voyage from New York to Halifax, Nova Scotia and the return voyage on the brigantine the Standard of Windsor, loaded with a runner during the Civil War. The logbook contains details of sea conditions, eating habits, and life aboard ship; fears of capture by Union forces; maneuvers used to run the blockade.

The Akerman family papers contain personal correspondence concerning Civil War activities around Pensacola Bay, Fla., Mobile Bay, Ala., and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Correspondence relating to army life, especially the appointment of officers, and to family matters. Letters mention the news of the Battle of Cold Harbor, the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Orders given under Gen. Barton's command at Fredericksburg, Va., to Col. C.J. Philips of the 52nd California Volunteers, and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Personal correspondence concerning Civil War activities around Pensacola Bay, Fla., Mobile Bay, Ala., and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Orders given under Gen. Barton's command at Fredericksburg, Va., to Col. C.J. Philips of the 52nd California Volunteers, and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Orders given under Gen. Barton's command at Fredericksburg, Va., to Col. C.J. Philips of the 52nd California Volunteers, and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.

Orders given under Gen. Barton's command at Fredericksburg, Va., to Col. C.J. Philips of the 52nd California Volunteers, and Vicksburg, Miss. His letters, addressed to his mother, comment on a run up to Vicksburg, bringing out a perspective on the ending of the Civil War, with topics including General Sherman's army, the surrender of General Johnston, and military campaigns, and the destruction of the Harper's Ferry and Winchester Railroad. Letters following the war largely detail family affairs, with one letter then written from Goldsboro and Raleigh, N.C., after Powell had rejoined his regiment. He wrote about his life, supplies, capture and imprisonment by the Yankees, political and military affairs, particularly battles and lost friends.
Civil War Diaries

And Interviews With President Lincoln, Secretary Stanton, General-In-Chief Halleck, And With Generals

Reminiscences Of General Herman Haupt, 1901. Personal Narratives Of Important Military Operations,

Theodore Gerrish

Richard W. Johnson

Memoirs of Stonewall Jackson, 1895.

Personal Recollections of William T. Sherman, 1902.

Sherman (1914)

Henry Perkins Goddard

John J. Garnett

A narrative of the formation and services of the Eleventh Massachusetts Volunteers, from April 15, 1861, to July

Gustavus B. Hutchinson

Reminiscences of a veteran (1897).

Recollections of a Cavalryman of the Civil War after Fifty Years, 1861-1865 (1915).

D.M. Kelsey - Deeds of daring by the American soldier, North and South on each side the line during the civil actions, etc., on each side the line during the Civil War.

patient endurance, imprisonments and hair breadth escapes, Romantic incidents, hand to hand

Thrilling narratives of Personal adventure, exploits of scouts and spies, forlorn hopes, heroic Bravery,

Civil War, and completed as he was dying of throat cancer in 1885.

the United States, focused mainly on his military career during the Mexican

…

Reminiscences of California and the Civil War (1894).

Daniel Fletcher

Alonzo Foster

Fritz Fuzzlebug

Charles Augustus Fuller

Narrative of a private soldier in the volunteer army of the United States, during a portion of the period covered

William Emile Doster

Robert Siderfin Critchell

Second Lieutenant of his company and was promoted rapidly to lieutenant colonel. After his discharge Draper

William Crook

Memoirs of Chaplain Life, three years chaplain in the famous Irish Brigade, " Army of the potomac.", 1893

Knoxville, 17th Nov.-5th Dec., 1863 (1871).

William Bennett

Wayland Fuller Dunaway served as a Captain of Company I, of the 40th Virginia Regiment of the Army of Wayland Fuller Dunaway - Reminiscences of a Rebel,1913.

' that few endure and live to write about. Although he attempts to relate the tale of horrors experienced in who could write about it.

twice, once in 1862 for four months and in 1864 for nine months. His experience in these prisons was of a kind s Story

The Soldier

Frank Malcom

Memoirs of service with John Yates Beall, C.S.N.

W.W. Morgan

Reminiscences - The last days of war in Ashville.

Recollections of a Volunteer- a memoir of the Civil War, 1865. Late Private, 16th Missouri Infantry, C. S. A.

Our battery; or, The journal of Company B, 1st O.V.A. (1864).

personal adventures (1906). Late of the eighth new york heavy artillery veteran of the second army corps ^

Nuggets of experience ; narratives of the sixties and other days, with graphic descriptions of thrilling

Nelson Armstrong

Reminiscences - Mrs. James W. Albright, n.d.

'Miss Mamie Yeary - Reminiscences of the Boys in Gray, 1861 to 1865, Vol. 2

Miss Mamie Yeary - Reminiscences of the Boys in Gray, 1861 to 1865, Vol. 1

Miriam Rivers

Memoirs of John Adams Dix, vol. 2, 1883

Delightful and comforting to read and honor him.

Dickison and his men. Reminiscences of the war in Florida (1890).

Mary Elizabeth Dickison

Mary Potter Higginson

Dickison and his men. Reminiscences of the war in Florida (1890).

Mary Potter Higginson

Jonathan Letterman

Diplomatic Achievements, etc., in the Civil War (1868).

John S. Abbott

Recollections Of A Naval Life Including The Cruises Of The Confederate States Steamers "Sumter" And "Alabama"

John Mcintosh Kell
John Alexander Strickland was discharged for health reasons. He also explains that he hired a substitute to serve in the war for him due to the 23rd North Carolina was formed, his short time in Company H of the 49th North Carolina when he W.I. Stowe

J.G. Rosengarten

Col. Nathan Kimball, in Western Virginia, in 1861.

Under canvass, or, Recollections of the fall and summer campaign of the 14th Regiment Indiana Volunteers, J.T. Pool

A Confederate artillery officer, William Thomas Poague fought in General's campaigns in

The One Hundred and Twentieth Regiment New York State Volunteers. A narrative of its services in the war for Ohio Volunteer Infantry, At Xenia, Ohio, August 22, 1894, Sergeant Isaac C. Doan.

Hampton S. Thomas

and Cumberland, 1886.

Charles Martin

whom was employed as a school.

1863-65.

"The Mound's" protection and distinction among the flat ground along the coast. He continues to tell of his exploits of going back and traversing New Inlet with the help from "The Mound's" protection and

The Narrative of a Blockade-Runner, 1877. Personal narrative of Capt. J. Wilkinson on his exploits of running

P. Leach.

Henry A. London

William O. Lee

were seized and sent to said household. 1863-65.

'both sides in the greatest of American conflicts, he described the various campaigns in which he took part.

Memoirs of Henry Villard, journalist and financier,1863-1900. As he proceeded and arrived at his experiences in

Memoirs of Henry Villard, journalist and financier, Vol. 1, 1835-1862 ,1904

In 1888 he published his Personal Memoirs of P. H. Sheridan, Vol. 1., 1888

Adventures and Reminiscences of a Volunteer, or A Drummer Boy from Maine,1892.

George T. Ulmer

Biography and personal sketches of all the commanding officers of the Union Army (1880). Narrative of the Reminiscences- Thomas Medicus Wiggins, 37th North Carolina Infantry, Comapny K.

Young describes military maneuvers and comments on several blunders made by the Confederate leadership

Reminiscences of a Soldier of the Orphan Brigade, 1918. Young's narrative traces his Civil War experiences

Reminiscences of Philip Sheridan, Harper

A series of 16 articles by John S.C. Abbott that appeared in Harper

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men - Wilds of Arkansas - Part XIV Harpers Monthly

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men - The Navy in the North Carolina Sounds - Part XI Harpers Monthly

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men - The Pursuit and Capture of Morgan - Part IX Harpers Monthly

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men - A Railroad Advenmture - Part VIII Harpers Monthly

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men – Change of Base Effected - Part VII Harpers Monthly

Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men - Military Adventures beyond the Mississippi - Part V Harpers Monthly

Prison life in the Old Capitol and reminiscences of the Civil War (1911).

Stinson tells about the surrender of the U.S. arsenal in Fayetteville to the local militia. She then War Days in Fayetteville, North Carolina - Reminiscences of 1861 to 1865. The United Daughters of

Under the Guns - A Woman's Reminiscences of the Civil War,1895.

On the wing of occasions - being the authorized version of certain curious episodes of the late Civil War, Joel Chandler Harris

Fourteen Hundred and Ninety-One Days in the Confederate Army. Marshall, Texas published by the author, 1876.

William W. Heartsill

during the Gettysburg Campaign, and in July 1863 was promoted to Colonel of his regiment.

D.H. Strother - Eighth Paper - Cedar Mountain - Personal Recollections of the War

George Turner

Orendorff, H. H. et al. Reminiscences of the Civil War From Diaries of Members of the One Hundred and Reminiscences - James Carnie Neel, 1st Regiment North Carolina Cavalry, Company F, 1861.

Reminiscences of a Mississippian in Peace and War, 1901.

Franklin Montgomery

George W. Pepper

An Officer In The Confederate Army, With An Introductory And Connecting Narrative Collected And Arranged

Narrative of the surrender of a command of U. S. forces, at Fort Filmore, N. M., in July, 1861 (1886).

George Taylor Lee

Ada Hancock

Annie Hyman

Reminiscences of a Confederate Soldier, of Co. C, 2nd Virginia Cavalry, 1913.

R.H. Peck

Memoir of Major-General George H. Thomas, 1881.

In many ways it is the story of one young man's first great adventure in life.

Telegraphing in Battle - Reminiscences of the Civil War, 1910. A view of the war experienced as a and on Grant's staff in Mississippi and through the Chattanooga campaign. He offers blunt assessments of Recollections of War Times; Reminiscences of Men and Events in Washington, 1860-1865 (1895). Author was Sara Pryor.

Recollections of an Old Man, Seventy Years in Dixie, 1910.

Memoir of William Francis Bartlett, 1878.

Reminiscences & sketches of Confederate times (1909).

Recollections of a Virginian in the Mexican, Indian and Civil Wars, 1894.

Reminiscences - Abel Peterson Rhyne, 49th North Carolina Infantry, Company H.

Which Opened At Mechanicsville, Near Richmond, On Thursday, June 26, 1862, And Resulted In The Defeat

The Seven Days' Battles In Front Of Richmond. An Outline Narrative Of The Series Of Engagements

second New York, Detailed Superintendent of the Mails of the Army of the Potomac, United States Marshal,

A Chautauqua boy in '61 and afterward; reminiscences by David B. Parker, Second Lieutenant, Seventy-

David B. Parker

Elizabeth Cabot Putnam

the crime of aiding the escape of a fellow-man from that state (1851)

funning a correct judgment as to the character and abilities of the Chief of the late Confederacy.

of the writer, we present it as giving the views of one who, from his position, had the most ample means of Recollections of a Pioneer (1912). This book of reminiscences covers the author's first journey to California in 'war, 1862-63 (1883).

Edward H. Rogers

A Sketch Of The Battle Of Franklin, Tenn.; With Reminiscences Of Camp Douglas.

those places.

Louis, from October, 1862, to August, 1864. This Memoir consists mainly of letters which she wrote from a hospital steamer on the Mississippi, from St. Louis to Vicksburg ; and in Benton Barracks Hospital in St.

the White House in Washington. This brought Sergeant Stimmel in almost daily observation of the President, Personal reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln (1928). In 1863 Sergeant Stimmel was honored by being selected

Smith Stimmel

Charles C. Nott - Sketches in prison camps: a continuation of Sketches of the war. By Charles C. Nott, late

John H. Reagan

Ralph J. Smith

Brunswick Times, April 11, 1897.

the 10th Pennsylvania Reserves. He was severely wounded in the battles around Richmond in early 1862. He

George Dallas Musgrove

against the attack. Gallant soldiers and leaders of the awful carnage. Personal heroism of two color bearers. The

George L. Kilmer

Story of a Charge: The Famous Forlorn Assault at Jackson, Mississippi. Colonel E.T. Lee

Of The Regiment..

Its Term Of Service; And Illustrations And Brief Biographical Sketches Of Nearly All The Commissioned Officers

Of The Regiment, Embracing The Name Of Every Officer And Enlisted Man Serving With It At Any Time During

most significant life events and political contributions. In the first chapter, which chronicles his time in the Civil to lieutenant colonel, 61st New York Volunteer Infantry, for gallantry in action, May 1862; replaced his Served on General Oliver O. Howard's staff and was wounded at the battle of Fair Oaks; was promoted Richard Snowden Andrews, lieutenant-colonel commanding the First Maryland Artillery (Andrews' in Texas, through General Twigg's treachery, dating from April, 1861, to February, 1863.

the Society, papers were read by members, describing battles and campaigns. The Society also developed a

Papers of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society, Series 7, no. 1-10, 1885

Papers of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society, Series 6, no. 1-10, 1903

Papers of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society, Series 4, no. 11-20, 1891

Papers of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society, Series 3, no. 11-20, 1885

Papers of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society, Series 1, no. 1-10, 1885

Memoirs and History of Captain F.W. Allexander's Baltimore Battery of Light Artillery, 1912.

Morgan's Men, a narrative of personal experiences (1919).

George Sumner

Reminiscences of an army nurse during the civil war (1911).
then were escorted out of the South by Union troops, eventually reaching his father

John Hill Aughey

Prisoners for Life

Theodore F. Allen

William Pittenger

John W. Chamberlin

A Gettysburg Diary - Carroll From the National’s Brigade and the part it played in repulsing the

E.H.C. Caines

A Scout's Adventures - Making preparations for the famous McCook Raid. From the National Tribune, 1890.

regiment fought at Fredericksburg five months later, and its struggle at Chancellorsville on May 3, 1863,

Kentucky cavaliers in Dixie, or, The reminiscences of a Confederate cavalryman.

Morgan's Men Under Duke–

George Dallas Mosgrove

Six Hundred Miles of Fried Chicken - A Lively Narrative of the Pursuit After Raider Morgan in 1863. Theodore

E.H. Webster

Oliver Otis Howard

The Last Privateer'

A narrative of service aboard the Confederate States

A Far-West Fight - Graphic Sketch of a Campaign Beyond the Mississippi. By N.N. Hill, formerly first lieutenant,

W.G. Bartholomew

A first person narrative by John McElroy.

John Mcelroy - The Atlanta Campaign - An Engaging Narrative of a Great Campaign.

6th Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserves.

'W. G. Polley

Charles Brewster

Capture and Escape - Narrative of  James Coapman, of the Regular Cavalry, Detached Service in Winter of 1864.

Robert Coapman

First person narrative of the wild night when the Monitor went down. Published in the Sunbury American, March

First person letters, 1858-1865 (1865).

William Jackson Palmer

Letters from the Trenches

Letters Historical - Story Told by the Correspondence between General Blunt and General Hindman, At

William M. Sweeny, ed.

Letters, 1853-1868 (1906).

Erasmus W. Reed

Letters from General Rosecrans to the democracy of Indiana : action of the Ohio regiments at

Russell Lowell (1835

Life and Letters of Richard Tylden Auchmuty, Fifth Corps, Army of the Potomac. 1890. As stated in the title,

Richard Tylden Auchmuty

Letters of Richard Tylden Auchmuty, Fifth Corps, Army of the Potomac. 1890. As stated in the title, Life and Letters of Thomas Kilby Smith, Brevet Major General, United States Volunteers, 1820-1887.

Civil war letters of James Crone and R. V. White, Gordon county, Georgia, 1864 (1864).

James Gleason

We are Sherman's Men - the Civil War Letters of Henry Orendorff (1986).

William M. Anderson