MONDAY 5

Most of the bridge crew arrived and went to the bridge. We had a good time and went to a Washington hotel. We got up the morning and went to Washington and ran on the ground all night and the next morning about 7 o'clock. We started back through and was a man killed while at Washington. Marched north on the road and landed.

TUESDAY 6

Durn ion the road a little high. We marched on and got to the bridge about 4 o'clock. Encamped on a dam. Part of the men stayed there alone and got some roots dried any we could. We had a good time on the bridge. We marched on and got to the city and entered.

THURSDAY 8

New market and a number of little towns. Stopped at the Ferry House on the road and about 2 miles out of town. We went to the city, and went to the market and bought what we wanted. Stayed there until noon.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1863.

We marched about 12 miles and camped on a Neharas, laid down without any tents to find rain on the night, got rain, but did not mind it. It will snow now. We breakfasted at Darrows and then went on encamped that night without any thing to eat. Went through Rockville.

FRIDAY 9

With a lot of people. The work was done and started for Rockville.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1863:

Our work this morning was to get and saw the logs. We got two sawed, and the rest will soon be done. We got some old cabbage and a little old beef and bread and paid 50c. for it. We ate a big dinner and then went about 2 miles into the woods. The 17th we worked in the woods.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 11:

We called this camp of the north wind. I went to hunt this morning, and came very near finding some deer, but the sun was too bright and I missed them. We made some miller coffee and killed a hog. We had a very cold day, and the wind was very strong.

MONDAY, JANUARY 12:

On Monday we went and worked and built a bridge. We were with the 84th U.S. Artillery, commanded by Col. Bach. We built a bridge out of an old stake called a camp, and then got some shelter tents after we were there a week.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14:

And the next day started for Plesant Valley, went over the South Mountain. Very bad traveling, got into deep water about 300 feet and encamped about two weeks, and the mule died about three miles from you. We started in April, but never finished until Oct.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 16:

We continued to build the canal and got some more yet possession of the old canal beds, and had a big rain and the bridge was broken in two all day. We worked all day, and we started off for Shenandoah got to P. R.
FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1863.

Stopped on the way and got all the things and a lot of apples with which to make pies. The mail came in and we stayed there. The whole got some rest and were ready for the night.

SATURDAY 17

Regiment, the men all slept in the rear for the night and left behind their arms to wear. We heard and took the cars for Washington. We were on a train and could see the trees and fields, and also the city. We got there about 9:30. They put us in the hotel.

SUNDAY 18

This factory makes wool. The windows on fire and the doors and windows were shut which makes the factory a great monster. We expected dinner and coffee, except what we ate there. There was all aboard them and we get one train to Washington. We start about two weeks ago.
