May, 1864

SUNDAY 15, 1864

Got up in the morning about daybreak and got breakfast. The fight commenced on my right about 10 o'clock. Between the action and a shot from the infantry across the creek. We had been in our front about an hour and a half when the batteries opened with a bang, after which a 12-pounder was fired. The battery was suppressed, and the 3rd made a charge. The 1st and 2d corps were in our old line, which was on the left, finding ourselves alone on the field. We situated ourselves on the hill near Cedar Creek. At 10 a.m. the 3rd made a charge on the 1st and 2d corps.

MONDAY 16,

Marched all night. Last night and day we advanced about 2 miles from Front Royal and took a quick rest, and rested. At midnight we relieved the 3rd in front of the line where we had been in action.

TUESDAY 17,

Went up this morning and got breakfast. We marched down to Front Royal and crossed the bridge and marched up to our old position, which we held throughout the day, support the gap in securing guns. George Meade addressed the regiments and the corps. I borrowed my coat and sat down to dinner. I was not present when the battle was over. My theory was to make the best use of my forces and Amthor. Since the battle, the enemy has been in the woods.
WEDNESDAY 18, 1864

Ordered to get breakfast and sit in advance at a place at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the regiment marched out of camp and marched 2 1/2 miles to town. We were accompanied by the 12th of the 14th Illinois. Wrote one of sheet of paper, 8 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Hoppe took place about 8 o'clock PM.

THURSDAY 19.

Slept with our regiment the last night. In the morning at 3 o'clock left camp along the river in which it lay some half a mile and made the attack at 5.30. The northerly wind and the cover of the trees made it hard for us to advance, but we kept going. We started on the road and marched with the regiment and the army. In the evening we lay on the road and began to march. In the evening we received orders to move to the rear and found ourselves in a small town. Gen. Scales received the order and marched to the rear. Gen. Hunter in charge of the rear. All that one teamster 3rd and 4th regiment was.

FRIDAY 20.

Detained for market. This morning Gen. Scales called of the rear.
May, SATURDAY 21, 1864

Departed early and got out in...ebbery goal.

MONDAY 23.

6 a.m. Receives a picket duty. Officer's baggage being sent to Martinsburg. Confederates ground northward about 5,000 from man.

Confederates advance.
May, 1864.

TUESDAY 24.

Leaving camp this morning at 6 o'clock and went off to play. Bill and I played a little at muskets. We were ordered off to go to camp to get our knapsacks and take out what things we could. I went to get what was wanted and put it back at the camp. I got the knapsacks and a little stuff and the men I put the stuff away. At Martinsburg we were ordered to go on and get our rations. We got our rations and a little stuff.

WEDNESDAY 25.

Received 10 pickets on some of the pickets. On guard duty. Was in the picket guard all that day. Also in the guard duty the whole week. Also in the guard duty the whole week.

THURSDAY 26.

I am 10 days alone. I call the morning with only to get in the camp at 10. At about 8 o'clock on the 26th morning was ordered to go to camp and through the head of a mine. The next day I went in the mine and work a mile and a half.
May, FRIDAY 27, 1864

In camp near Woodstock.
Companies sent out for forage considerably advancing. One soldier from the 47th has been captured. A cavalryman captured by some 'Yankees' this morning in the act of forging and stripping his armament and other necessaries. We are now almost back to camp. Why the lines extended. June, THURSDAY 3 1804

Got up this morning at 5 o'clock and at 5 we were ordered to move. We commenced marching about 9 o'clock and halted near a battle ground. About 12 o'clock our train was ordered here and the court adjourned. At 2 p.m. our train was ordered here and the court adjourned. Our cavalry and the army marched to the enemy's position at about 3 p.m. and arrived in camp at 11 p.m. Our cavalry and the army marched to the enemy's position at about 3 p.m. and arrived in camp at 11 p.m.

FRIDAY 4

SUNDAY 5

SATURDAY 6

Got up this morning at 5 o'clock and got breakfast and went to the battle ground where we found some of the priest among the dead. The march was from the enemy's lines and we crossed the field of battle. The priest among the dead. The march was from the enemy's lines and we crossed the field of battle.
June 5, 1864

SUNDAY 5,

Off at 5 or 6 this morning, I went about 3 miles west and south on the railroad. The cavalry, under the command of one of the generals, reached the enemy's line at about 9 o'clock. The infantry, under the command of the division, reached the enemy's line about 11 o'clock. At about 1 o'clock, the enemy were driven from their position, and the line of battle was taken. The battle raged for several hours, and the enemy were finally driven out of their position.

MONDAY 6.

Commenced my journey from New York this morning, arriving at a near town in the line. The town was named for Stanton, and from there I went to the railroad station. About 2 o'clock, the train arrived, and I was taken to a near town, where I was met by my friend, Mr. Dole, who had brought me a note from his brother, saying that he had been engaged in a duel at a gun store of York.

TUESDAY 7.

This morning the battle of Jackson was fought. The cavalry, under the command of one of the generals, followed him about 3 miles and then returned to the railroad. The government buildings were still in the hands of the enemy.
June, WEDNESDAY 8, 1864

Emancipated the 4th. by General J. W. Gillis, Commander today.

THURSDAY 9.

The 35th Regt went down Yorktown and set out from there, and went west the same day.

FRIDAY 10.

Commenced the march from Williams to Mathom on this side 3 miles. The Command is a considerable size. We marched a couple of hours from 1 o'clock. A very pleasant day and the air is fresh and cool. What a view of the country! After a march of about 10 miles, we reached a small town called midway.

Afterwards that a baggage train of the wagon loaded with supplies had arrived. And that the Gen. Burnes received dispatches stating that Gen.
Grant met with good success. This was a very much, much change.
June, 1864

SATURDAY 11, 1864

Got up this morning and marched on during long for three hours. Quietly with the company advancing in strong and close to the rear of the leading section of the enemy's line, at which time the bridge was burnt. At 4 P.M. the command started to cross the river. Upon reaching the bridge were killing the wounded by the pontoon. At night the first brigade went over the bridge 10 paces from the river and took the town. Received a large number of wounded. Received a large meal. The evening was spent outside of the town.

SUNDAY 12

Went out this morning at 10 o'clock. Took a good look around the camp. Visited all the tents of the various regiments and got in readings to move at 10 A.M. For about 9 miles across the North Branch of the Potomac River. Left the officers. Went back and stayed about 5 miles.

MONDAY 13

Made a visit to the rear of the military hospital at Burlington. Saw a great many wounded. The doctor of the hospital told me that General Burnside had taken command.
June, TUESDAY 14, 1864

I start this morning at 3½ o'clock and return midday having marched 14 miles to a point north by west. I meet the 1st Brigade and the 5th Brigade. The latter was marching along the road between 14 and 2 miles from the place of departure. The 1st Brigade was marching by 3½ miles from the place of departure. We found the bridge over the James River divided; consequently we crossed it by a line of march and the 5th Brigade over the bridge. After a march of 2½ miles over 1½ miles through the woods and the remnant of the 1st Brigade on the right side of the street near the town, where Generals Monitor and Marble met. The 5th Brigade was followed by the 2nd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 3rd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 1st Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 5th Brigade. The 3rd Brigade was ordered to march by the 5th Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 2nd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 4th Brigade. The 4th Brigade was ordered to march by the 5th Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 2nd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 3rd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 1st Brigade. The 1st Brigade was ordered to march by the 5th Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 2nd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 3rd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 4th Brigade. The 4th Brigade was ordered to march by the 5th Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 2nd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 3rd Brigade, which was ordered to march by the 1st Brigade.

WEDNESDAY 15

Get up this morning at 6 o'clock and went down to the village to take a look. After breakfast received orders to march at the time of 6 o'clock. The orders were to march to the regiment and in an hour or so we were on the road and on our way over the bridge. By the way of action, I was told to march the regiment in line of march on high ground. The orders were to march to the right by the road and across the river. I camped at 2 p.m. in the clear.

THURSDAY 16

Left camp this morning about 6 o'clock and moved to some mistake we got along the river and did not stop until 10 o'clock. The water in the river was very low. Found the river to be about 3 miles wide, and the public road was blocked. Camped at night near a deserted house. The inhabitants had fled. Some had gone to work for the army.
Friday 17, 1864

Begun to this morning in a light and ordered to get breakfast and am ready to start in.

W.B. Egan, March 1805.

Canceled in the spring.

Mary of the May 9 1805.

Planted corn in that spring.

Purchased land in town.

Came through the town.

Some very fine houses there.

This one and the next.

Which place is very high above sea level.
